WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

I would recommend OKR's service to other companies because it allows companies to retain ownership of their cash inflows, offers flexible payment terms, provides quick access to funds, and has a very responsive and professional team to work with. OKR also has the foresight and ability to take calculated risks by supporting early stage companies like ours. The fact that the control and ownership of funds remained with TransPod, as well as the flexibility we had in repaying the loan, made OKR the most favourable choice amongst others.
